2. External Training

a. National Interdepartmental Seminar. So far there are only two Agency nominees for the next NIS beginning 21 October. Past experience, however, indicates there will be several more before the session begins. This will be the last running of the seminar until January.

b. Naval War College Requests Additional Agency Speaker. Alert Agency students at the Naval War College surfaced the fact that the NWC was dissatisfied with DIA's coverage in NWC's midcareer level Command and Staff Course. Following up on a suggestion to the Navy that the Agency might produce a speaker, arrangements have been completed to have Bruce Clark, D/OSR, talk on "Soviet and ChiCom Military Threats" on 12 November to replace DIA coverage of this topic. No Agency students attend the Command and Staff Course.

c. Defense Atomic Support Agency Briefings. The Agency has again been invited to participate in the semi-annual Nuclear Weapons briefings at the Pentagon, 28-31 October. The Agency quota of 16 spaces, four for each day, will undoubtedly be filled. This is a refresher program designed for employees who have previously attended the Nuclear Weapons Orientation at Sandia, New Mexico, or a similar course.
